Day One:

- I. Using the above website from the House of Representatives, have students read the information and then prepare a short essay that explains their understanding of the term genocide and where the United States stood on ratification of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide.

Day Two – Three:

- II. Divide students into the following three groups for a class debate:
 - a. Acts of genocide have been committed in the United States against the Native American population.
 - b. Acts of genocide have not been committed in the United States against the Native American population.
 - c. Debate panel moderators

LESSON PLAN

- IV. Explain that students will use their understanding of the 19 Articles of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide to supplement their position in the debate (second website above).
- V. Have students divide up and research the basic history of the following:
 - a. Sand Creek Massacre
 - b. Massacre at Wounded Knee
 - c. Trail of Tears
- VI. Based on their understanding of the events above and the position they hold in the debate activity, have students prepare questions/arguments to support their position.

Day Four:

- VII. Engage in a debate guided by the panel moderators.
